*Holiday observed on this day

For holidays falling on Saturday, Federal Reserve Banks and Branches will be open the preceding Friday; however, the Board of Governors will be closed. For holidays falling on Sunday, all Federal Reserve offices will be closed the following Monday. Chase will not process transactions on days that the Federal Reserve Banks and Branches are closed.

On Columbus Day, Chase branches will be open; however, this day will be treated as a holiday for purposes of online transactions.

The following services are impacted on the bank holidays:

- Scheduling Transactions—You will not be able to schedule any transactions (including Loan Payments and Advances) to be delivered on the holiday.
- Repeating Transactions—Any repeating transactions that would be processed on the holiday (including Loan Payments) will be processed on the preceding business day.
- Chase QuickDepositSM—Deposits made on the holiday will post on the next business day.
- Fraud Protection Services—Any Check Monitoring Services or Check Protection exceptions that would have been available for your review on the holiday will be available on the following business day. The cut-off time for decisions will remain 4 PM local account time on the following business day.

Other services available through your online profile, including account activity and information reporting, will not be impacted by the holidays.
